Collect

Almighty God,
who called you Church to bear witness that you were in Christ reconciling the world to yourself:
help us to proclaim the good news of your love,
that all who hear it may be drawn to you;
through him who was lifted up on the cross,
and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God,
now and forever.

Priest in charge:

Revd Jeremy Cullimore.

Jane & Bill invite you to an afternoon tea in the church hall on Friday 29th September in aid of Macmillan support.

There are now 2.5 million people in the UK living with cancer. By 2030, it will be 4 million people, and we want to be there for them all.

One in three of us will get cancer, and it will be one of the toughest things we'll ever have to face. Our goal is to make sure no one faces cancer alone.

We provide medical, emotional, practical and financial support, as well as campaigning for better cancer care. And because cancer affects more than just those facing it, we're there for friends and family too. We are Macmillan.

Coming to an Afternoon Tea is the perfect chance to catch up over a cuppa and a slice of something delicious for a great cause.

PLEASE COME!

The Church Army

Imagine a church that is full of people who are worshipping God together, content with the Sunday services and happy with things as they are. Along comes a young curate on fire with the gospel wanting to spread the Good News to people who wouldn't dream of setting foot inside a church. In 1882 this was the dilemma which Wilson Carlile faced. In response he established Church Army with a vision to train ordinary Christian men and women to reach those most in need with the gospel.

Today, Church Army continues to build on the foundations laid by Wilson Carlile. Our vision is for everyone, everywhere to encounter God's love and be empowered to transform their communities through faith shared in words and action. This is at the heart of all Church Army does as it gives hope to those most in need; the homeless, women experiencing prostitution, those battling addictions, young offenders, the elderly and children and young people to name a few.

The Scunthorpe Centre of Mission, launched in July 2017, works in three communities across Scunthorpe that are a mix of economically and socially deprived areas, with areas within them that materially are quite well off. It aims to encourage the present church and bring hope to the wider community and show that Jesus is relevant and that he cares about the folk who live in these areas.
