Thank you from Father Matt

It has been a real joy to join with you as the community of St Peter-at-Gowts over the last few months.

Shortly following my wedding in October I'll be leaving Lincoln to join my partner Cath down in London. I will miss you!

My last service in the parish will therefore be Sunday 28th October, 10am. I thank God for the time I've shared with you and particularly want to thank Father Jeremy for all his encouragement and support.

Father Matt

Many thanks to those who helped in the welcoming team on our two Heritage open days. As expected, the first day was the busiest, having been advertised in the Heritage booklet, but all the visitors were very appreciative, both of the building and the quilts. Thankyou also to those who supplied quilts for the display.

International Day of Peace is an International event that is observed each year by nations all across the world. The event is commemorated on 21st of September each year. It is a day that was set aside by the United Nations General assembly for everyone around the world to devote to keeping peace, despite any differences they may have, as well as play a part in building a peace culture that will last for generations to come.

Communities across the world observe this day in different ways. Some observe the day through organising peace workshops, engaging in feasts that bring people together for peace, putting up peace poles, and engaging in peace activities that bring people together. An activity that is common in people observing this day is the one minute silence that is observed at 12 noon across all time zones. This activity was started to create a 'Peace Wave' that moves around the globe.
