they may help and defend us on earth;
through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord,
who is alive and reigns with you,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God, now and for ever.

TRAIDCRAFT

Extracts from a letter from Traidcraft;

'We are sorry to share some unpleasant news with you. Traidcraft plc's recent trading has been poor and despite enormous efforts...to reverse the company's performance we have not yet succeeded. The board of directors believe it is prudent to close our current loss making trading operations. Traidcraft plc's mission to put the principles of fair trade into commercial practice is not, in any sense, fulfilled but we appreciate it is time to consider new approaches.

We are very much aware of the impact this will have on our producer friends. We are communicating with our partners to see if we can help them transfer their business to other organisations.

Traidcraft will continue to trade as usual to the end of 2018."

I have the catalogue if anyone wants to make last chance orders, including Christmas cards

Michaelmas (also known as the Feast of Saint Michael and All Angels) is a Christian festival observed in some Western liturgical calendars on 29 September. The angels include Gabriel, and Raphael, and sometimes a fourth angel, usually Uriel, . In Christian angelology, the Archangel Michael is the greatest of all the Archangels and is honoured for defeating Satan in the war in heaven. He is one of the principal angelic warriors, seen as a protector against the dark of night, and the administrator of cosmic intelligence. Michaelmas has also delineated time and seasons for secular purposes as well. In medieval England, Michaelmas marked the ending and beginning of the husbandman's year, as "at that time harvest was over, and the bailiff or reeve of the manor would be making out the accounts for the year." Because it falls near the equinox, it is associated in the northern hemisphere with the beginning of autumn and the shortening of days. It was also one of the quarter days when accounts had to be settled. (Wikipedia)
