through the merits of your Son Jesus

in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God, now and for ever.

DID YOU KNOW? (Because I didn't until last week!)

No saints days are celebrated in Easter week (and several other weeks following major celebrations, Patrick tells me). Consequently, no matter what most people did last Tuesday, St George's day this year is on Monday. St Marks day has also moved, - to Tuesday!

My APOLOGIES that the years mind list has disappeared from the front page. I have has a dramatic wipe out of my laptop and lost much of the information stored there. (I know—I should back things up!!) Until I find some way of finding Mary's list, and restoring it again, it will be missing. If anyone would like to give me the dates of those they wish to be remembered, I can build it up that way.

We pray for peace in the world,
 Peace between nations,
 Peace within communities,
 Peace in our hearts and in our lives.
 Lord, show us the peace we should accept,
 The peace we should give,
 The peace we need to work for,
 And the peace we should forgo.

When we are in a hole, generally the way out is not found by looking down, but by looking up. Reminding ourselves who is on hand to help is more constructive than describing the contours of the hole or the reasons why we fell in.

 Hinges seem to be like many people; unhappy with their lot in life and determined to protest when called to duty.
